Library Services

The libraries provide information and instruction to every Monroe University student as a central element of the educational experience. The collections span the entire academic curriculum, including materials of interest within and outside the scope of courses. In addition to onsite resources and reference assistance, Monroe University offers students extensive online library and research tools and resources. The libraries provide access to print and electronic books and journals, databases, research guides, librarians, the Virtual Reference Desk, and other academic libraries (LYRASIS). Discovery for Monroe University is a search platform that simultaneously searches approximately 70% of the library's electronic resources. Research Guides use the LibGuides platform, which assists students with their research needs. For more information, visit Monroe University Libraries (<https://monroecollege.libguides.com/home/>).

Academic Support Services

The University provides various mechanisms of student academic support, including tutoring services for all students at no cost, and information literacy and research tools via Monroe University Libraries.

Undergraduate Academic Centers

The Student Success Center in the Bronx and the Academic Center in New Rochelle actively support the mission of the University in its commitment to each student's academic success in a supportive environment. These Centers foster independent learning techniques that contribute to the student's academic and personal growth while encouraging personal responsibility and accountability for one's own learning.

The Centers employ professional and peer tutors to assist students one-on-one. A variety of instructional approaches are utilized depending on the learning style and proficiency of the learner. The Centers provide comprehensive academic support, services, and resources for faculty, staff and administrators designed to enhance student academic achievement and success.
